The visitors took a quick 4-0 leading during T2 with, off all people, starting pitcher James Fleming capping a four-run rally by hitting a two-run homer over the Left Field fence. Diamond St. took two runs back in B3, but 4-2 was the closest they would come to Trenton Utd., who scored multiple runs in each of the last six innings before finishing the afternoon with a fourteen-run victory at DuPont Place.

Trenton Utd. saw two tremendous performances from their batsmen. The first of the two came via their leadoff man, CF James Hunsberger:

- T1: Ground Out to SS (1 out)

His performance raised his Average to .328 (.775 OPS) with 28 Runs, 24 RBI, and 0.9 WAR through 28 appearances. As things stand, Martin looks likely to make his second straight All-Star Game.

The victory kept Trenton Utd. alone top the Coastal Standings at 18-11. They are ahead of both Maryland and Philadelphia Baseball & Cricket Club by one game. Diamond St. is tied for fourth place with Bunker Hill with a 16-13 record (2 GB).
