This was an old-fashioned beatdown. Highlander scored three times in T1 and once in T2, to take a 4-0 lead, and they responded to an Olympic run in B2 with a six-run rally, featuring three run-scoring Hits, to take a 10-1 lead. After Olympic scored their second run in B4, Highlander hit their hosts with the big inning in T5: eight Runs via a variety of sources including a Single, Wild Pitch, Double, another single, consecutive Errors, a Hit by Pitch, and a Base on Balls. They added four more Runs in T6 and it was a 22-4 game after just six innings. One more run in T9, and Highlander had finished off a nineteen-run laugher.

There was no shortage of Highlander Batsmen who made a good name for themselves.
